COVID-19 Informed Consent

Dance instruction is an inherent physical process performed in a dance studio. Even though Ballet Arts is doing everything we can to protect our students and teachers through limiting class size, distancing students at least 6 feet apart during class, wiping surfaces that are touched after each class and providing hand sanitizers for before and after class, we can not absolutely insure the absence of COVID-19 transmission. We ask that if you show any signs of COVID-19 infection (shortness of breath, fever, tightness in the chest, etc) that you stay away from class until you have time to be tested for the disease by your health care provider.

Because we can not ensure that our students will not be exposed to the COVID-19 virus any more than a trip to the grocery store or medical offices, we can not accept responsibility for infection though we hope this does not occur and will do what we can to prevent such transmission. By registering for the summer classes you are acknowledging that an inherent risk of exposure to COVID-19 exists in any public space where people are present.

I give permission for _____ to participate in the 2020 summer dance program at Ballet Arts.
